A GOOD NIGHT'S SLEEP KEEPS YOUR BODY HEALTHY

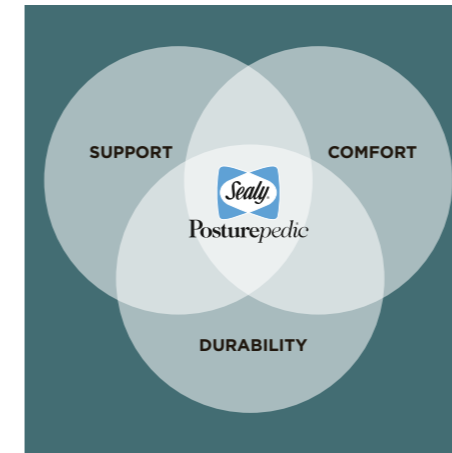

WHY INVEST IN A GOOD MATTRESS?

We spend a third of our lives in bed. And good physical and mental health depends on deep, uninterrupted sleep. During that time, our body's energy supplies are replenished, and our muscles recover and recharge. And we undertake critical mental processing from the day that's been. To achieve the best possible sleep, you need a good quality mattress, so consider two key factors:

correct support and pressure-relieving comfort. Correct support is about achieving the ideal spinal alignment. Your sleeping position should allow you to be relaxed, with muscles in a neutral position. And pressure-relieving comfort assists in reducing the body's need to toss and turn overnight. A good mattress helps you wake up feeling great.

WHY SEALY?

Sealy is Australia's favourite mattress brand. We've been in the business of beds in Australia since 1923 and offer the perfect blend of support, comfort and durability.

Our mattresses are constructed using world-class design practices and rigorous testing techniques. We have a strong commitment to the local manufacturing industry, and make all our mattresses in Australia with locally sourced materials. Our unique SRx^{II} support system is the core of everything we do. Strong titanium alloy coils deliver both correct support design principles and pressure-relieving comfort suitable for the whole family.

INSIDE OUR TECHNOLOGY

In a Sealy Posturepedic® mattress, it all starts with our SRxII® support system – the core of everything we do. Titanium alloy coils are strong, resilient and durable and are wound in a graduated structure. At the top the coils are tight for initial conforming support, and at the base they're wider to deliver firmer, deep down support. The open coil shape also allows air to circulate and each row of coils alternates for maximum stability – minimising lateral movement.
